PREFACE

SEARCH FOR THE PARENTS OF ISRAEL AND RICHARD TRIPP

Charles Demille Tripp of Wellington, Ontario, identification of the father of Israel and Richard Tripp as John of Beekman township, Dutchess county, New York, is a good starting place. The publication of the first five generations of the descendants of John Tripp of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, by Margaret Buckridge Bock in The Genealogist, Spring 1983, Volume 4, Number 1, has helped to identify the brothers and sisters of John of Beekman. In the first Federal census, we find a brother Israel and Hannah (wife of the late Smitten) also living in Beekman township. Smitten probably died two years before the census. Another brother, Richard lived in Fishkill, the next township to the West, also in Dutchess County. The father, Richard, was living in Hillsdale, Spencertown, Columbia county, just north of Dutchess.

The exact date is unknown when Israel and Richard Tripp left Dutchess county for Canada. There is even speculation that they may have traveled through New Brunswick and/or Vermont. A gun ("fowling piece" in more precise terms) has come down the Tripp family in Canada to Charles Demille Tripp.

Carolyn S. Valentine, a Tripp descendant born in Wayne County New York wrote Tripp Wills Deeds and Ways, 1932. It was not published but a copy was placed in the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C. She writes a great deal about Richard, the father of John. In Richard's will, an equal portion is left to each of the six sons but John's portion is to be kept by John Burtis for the grandchildren of the first marriage. Mrs. Valentine (page 169) suggests that John had fourteen children.

Richard (son of John 3,2,1) is the only family to include sons by the name of Israel and Richard. The family included six sons. Neither Israel nor Richard moved to Canada.

The second marriage of John may have been disruptive enough for two sons to seek their future in Canada. I wonder if the attitude of the five uncles (if they likewise disapproved of John's second marriage) may have encouraged Israel and Richard to migrate.

Mrs. Valentine, after a paraphrase of Richard's will, writes: "We note that he says of the relict that Israel is "her son." (Quotation marks and underlining by Mrs. Valentine.) However, a photostatic copy of the will registered May 11, 1809, from the Columbia County Clerk reveals this: ". . . give and bequeath unto my loving wife her maintenance with my son Israel Tripp, my son Richard . . . unto the heirs of my son Smiton Tripp and my sons John, Israel, Benjamin and Jonathan, . . . share and share alike. Also I order that my sons John's portion be put in the hands of John Burtis to be dealt to him as he stands in need of it, if not to be divided among his first wife's children after his decease, share and share alike, the delivery to be left to the discretion of said John Burtis." The will was made January 12, 1802.

A number of settlers in the Prince Edward County Ontario came from Dutchess county. It isn't hard to imagine how an unsettled home life for teenagers would encourage Israel and Richard to attach themselves to a party of settlers seeking land. Joseph Clapp from Poughkeepsie (Dutchess county) during the winter 1780-1781 drove in a sleigh with a family of three, via Lake Champlain and Montreal to Adolphustown Ontario. The trip took one month.

Jacob Bull, a great grandson, born 1789 comes to Prince Edward county Ontario 1819; to Hillier township 1828; to Percy township, Northumberland County December 1828.

Amos Bull, a grandson of Ruth Tripp, born 1768, comes to Prince Edward County, following his children; settled in Hallowell.

Page 496, Pioneer Life/Quinte, Fox family came from Dutchess County New York (p. 328) via Hudson river, the Lakes and Oswego.

Could this connection between the Dutchess county people and Prince Edward county, have been made because of any kinship of Ruth Tripp Bull with Israel and Richard?

SEARCHING FOR THE ANCESTORS OF ISRAEL AND RICHARD TRIPP

While serving as a Chaplain for the 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, North Carolina, (1956-1959) I compiled a booklet of 40 mimeographed pages that was distributed in 1958. Dorothy Bernice Tripp and I were married in Rochester, New York, June 14, 1952. The booklet (Genealogy of the Klein family and related families) was a beginning and merits little more than a mention. I stated that there was a "Holland" source for the Tripp family in Prince Edward county, but nothing could be documented until a paper entitled "Tripp Genealogy" and dated 24 Jan 1980 came from Charles Demille Tripp of Wellington, Ontario. The first two paragraphs give the background on John Tripp 1610-1678 of Portsmouth, Rhode Island. The third and fourth paragraphs are quoted.

> JOHN TRIPP, believed to be the 3rd generation, appears in the New York State 1790 census. JOHN is listed at 45 years of age and having two boys under sixteen years of age. It is believed that John is the father of RICHARD and ISRAEL TRIPP.

RICHARD AND ISRAEL TRIPP came to Upper Canada about 1795-6 and settled near Fish Lake, Sophiasburg, Prince Edward County, Ontario, Canada.

The only reference was Reid's Families of American Loyalists. It was also noted that "most of the above material was obtained from old records, some of it was handed down by word of mouth."

In response to my letter, Charles Tripp in his October 10, 1980, letter, wrote: "Lineage has been traced to John and Hannah and their sons Israel 1775 and Richard 1778 - in the 1790 New York Census for Beekman Precinct, Dutchess County. . . . We have through researchers found that John and Hannah were married in Dutchess County 4/8/1768. She was Hannah Hopkins. . . . My grandfather Daniel often spoke of his father's tales of his life in Dutchess County."

During a visit in 1984, Charles did not name his method of research although he hinted that a professional researcher may have given him that data. He did show me the "fowling piece" (gun) that Israel and Richard brought with them.

George L. Randall's Tripp Genealogy: Descendants of James, son of John Tripp (1924) on page 22 lists John 5, Anthony, James 3,2, John 1742-1816; married to Hannah Hopkins. Their sons are Daniel born 1770, Anthony and John. The members of this family fit the 1790 census listing for Pawling township, Dutchess County, New York: two free white males of 16 years and upward including heads of household; 2 free white males under 16 years; and four free white females including heads of household.

The John Tripp who married Hannah Hopkins [page 104-105 #68] is identified by Margaret Buckridge Bock as John 5, Anthony 4, James 3, 2 John. Among their 8 children, there is no one named Israel or Richard. Their son, John was born 3 March 1779 in Pine Plaines, Dutchess County New York. According to the 1790 Census, he lived in Pawling township of Dutchess County. Huntting, History of Little Nine Partners and Northeast Precinct (1897, page 383-384.)

Arthur C. M. Kelly researched the Dutchess County tax lists which show that John was in Beekman township from June 1765 to 1769; then in Pawling township 1771-1778 and Washington township 1787.

Another John Tripp born 27 November 1780 was at Pawling and Quaker Hill. He is identified as John S. 6, Samuel 5, Timothy 4, John 3, James 2, John (page 30 Randall).

The 1790 Census for Beekman Precinct (township) for Dutchess County New York list three Tripps as Heads of families. They are : Hannay (sic), Israel and John. Hannah Vincent married Smitten Tripp who died 1789. The name is variously spelled Smightin, Smiten, and Smeton. Smitten, Israel and John are brothers, the sons of Richard 4, John 3,2,1. Another son is Richard (junior) who is listed in Fishkill township 1790 census. Fishkill is just west of Beekman in Dutchess county.

It is believed that John (son of Richard 4, John 3,2,1) is the father of Israel and Richard, the brothers who married the Demille sisters.

From the New York Revolutionary Papers (page 82) for 1775 is a list of persons who refuse to sign the General Association in Beeckman's Precinct, Dutchess county. The four Tripps listed are probably from the same family: Richard, Richard Junior, Israel and Smightin. Also listed is Josiah H. Bull, Junior, whose descendants are connected with the Spencer family (see #106).

By the time of the census (fifteen years later) Richard 4 has moved to Columbia County. Richard Junior moved to Fishkill township and later serves in the Revolutionary Army.

Ernest Klein continues to search for the parents of Israel and Richard Tripp. There is the suggestion of a relationship of other Tripp families in Canada. Your help is needed. A list of corrections and additions will be kept in the computer. If you can supply more information, please send it to Ernest Klein, 17098 O'Connor Avenue, Allen Park, MI 48101-2843 or Arline Fanning, 720 Fairway Lane, Sycamore, IL 60178-2311. The full name is requested (to include nicknames), date of birth, marriages and death and place (to include county and province/state) plus the names of the parents or spouses to include the maiden name of the mother; occupation/work; present address with phone number. For the cost of postage, you may receive annual updates.

I never met Charles DeMille Tripp while my husband and I summered in Canada, but we had frequent telephone contact after my move to Iowa. I was aware of Charles' existence when I became interested in researching the Tripps. The Picton Gazette carried an article in 1969 about the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of Charles and Florence Tripp (see p. 51). Upon reading the article, I realized that the Richard and Israel Tripp mentioned were also my ancestors. I then began the process of trying to fill in descendants for my line. My aunt, Sabra (Tripp) Harvey, was a great help in supplying dates and information to fill in the skeleton. Later additions from others researching their particular line helped to complete what has grown to be an enormous number of descendants--there are close to 3000 descendants. One day I received a letter from a Tripp researcher, Emmet Sprung of Washington, D. C. Emmet Sprung retired in 1953 and died in 1981. He was searching the line of Israel Tripp, supposedly a brother of Richard Tripp. Through him I was introduced to another Tripp researcher, the Rev. Ernest Klein, who at that time was living in the Detroit area. Ernest was tracing the Israel line (his wife Dorothy is descended from Israel) and had already published a sketchy genealogy in 1958. Illean was tracing the Richard line. We have worked together for several years to discover who the parents of Richard and Israel were. Over the years we have done our part to help offset the U. S. post office deficit, and we have visited in person for several brainstorming sessions. In recent years we have decided to jointly publish our research. This book embraces well over 20 years of work. We hope it will help others who are interested, and if there is any information you can contribute to furthering this work, we would be happy for you to contact us.

In doing research on this family, it was soon discovered that many names were repeated generation after generation. This led to a great deal of confusion as to who belonged to who. In 1978 we came across a genealogy program for the computer sold by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormons) called Personal Ancestry File. Because of its unique format of showing three generations on the screen at the same time, we were finally able to place everyone with their proper family.

The name DeMille has several variations: Demille, DeMille and sometimes DeMilt.

The middle name of Allen occurs very frequently in the early generations and is even found occasionally in later generations. The authors do not know why this middle name was so widely used as there does not appear to be any family connection. Sometimes it is spelled Allen and sometimes Allan. The DeMilles lived for a period of time in Vermont and the authors have theorized that there might be a connection with the Ethan Allen of early American history.

A word about the numbering system to those not familiar with genealogy: Each person in this genealogy has been assigned a number. Numbers are for identification purposes only. Numbers might not be in consecutive order. As new people are found, a new number is assigned to that person. Those persons numbered 1-1999 are descended from Richard Tripp. Those persons numbered 2000 and more are descended from Israel Tripp. There may be the occasional exception where the editor got a little confused as to which family she was working on.

We are not always happy with our accuracy (dates, spelling) but in most instances we can only work with the information which we have found and with which we have been supplied. Early spellings varied, birth dates were not part of an official record as they are today and they were sometimes inaccurate. We are the first to admit that errors do creep in and, of course, twe apologize for the typing gremlins which occur from time to time.

See p. 259 for further information on DeMille]

Family legend says that Richard Tripp and his family settled around Fish Lake, Sophiasburg (Prince Edward) Ontario, when he and his brother Israel migrated from Dutchess County, New York. Richard and Israel married daughters of Isaac DeMille, United Empire Loyalist. When Crown lands became available to the children of United Empire Loyalists they moved to Read, Tyendinaga (Hastings) Ontario. The Crown deed was for land situated at North one half lot 19, Tyendinaga. On 14 Oct 1856, Richard Tripp bought the east 60 acres South half of lot 19, Sixth Concession, Tyendinaga (Hastings) for $200. The Crown land became available to them through Mary's father, Isaac DeMille, who was a United Empire Loyalist and also one of the first settlers of Northport, Ontario. p. 290, PIONEER LIFE, QUINTE. p. 288: Isaac Demille from Vermont to Northport, 1792. In her petition dated 20 June 1812 at Sophiasburg, Mary states that she is married to Richard Tripp and is the daughter of Isaac Demille, a "U. E. Loyalist." (Vol. 497 T10/22, reel C2834, Canadian National Archives). Richard bur Albert Cemetery, (Hastings) Ontario, Canada.

Richard's tombstone, Albert Cemetery (Hastings) Ontario, reads as follows:

"Richard Tripp d October 30 1858 age 70 yrs, 7 months, 13 days"

Mary (De Mille) Tripp did not use her land grant of 1812, as Richard was serving in the Prince Edward Dragoon's at that time. In May 1817, she reapplied and received 200 acres - lot #7, concession #4 in Georgina Twp. Georgina Twp. is located on the south shore of Lake Simcoe. Richard and Mary lived there for 15 months and sold the land in August 1818. Where Richard and Mary moved after that is unknown. In the Archives of Canada, Ottawa, Ontario, R.G. 1B7 Volume #14 states that Private Richard Tripp was paid 6 shillings, 6 pence, for 13 days of pay.

It is said that after Richard died, Peter and his mother and the girls moved to Sidney county. Documentation for this cannot be found. (8/4/88)

Death Notice of Elizabeth "Bessie" Tripp: Tripp: In Hillier township, on Sunday, Sept. 17, 1911, Mrs. Daniel Tripp, aged 86.

Obituary of Elizabeth "Bessie" Waddington: Through Prince Edward (from staff reporters) Hillier (Sept. Special to Gazette) There passed away on Sunday, Sept 19, an old resident of the village in the person of Betsy, wife of Daniel Tripp. Her death was not altogether unexpected as the old lady had reached the advanced age of 86 years and had been in poor health for the last year. Mrs. Tripp was truly a wonderful example of prolonged activity, retaining all her faculties till the last, and keeping her home in order for her aged partner, for whom all sympathy is felt in this great bereavement. Of a large family ten children are living, and among the descendants one counts a living record of 48 grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren. The funeral took place at Hillier on Tuesday Sept. 21, the service being conducted by Mr. Williams, Methodist pastor at Consecon. Interment took place at Christ Church Cemetery, a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives following to the grave. [Source: Picton Gazette Sept. 28, 1911, p. 2] *Note: Date of death was misprinted by the Picton Gazette and should read Sunday, Sept. 17.

Nick Tripp had 5 sons, Charles, Edward, Nick, Jr., Davey and Joe but a pair of twins are buried in the old homestead's private cemetery. Since there was never a cemetery for the Harcourt Community, most of the earlier farms had such burial plots. However, as road conditions improved, more interments took place at Wilberforce and these private plots fell into disuse." [In Quest of Yesterday p. 109]

DANIEL TRIPP IS DEAD AT NINETY: Long, Adventurous, Varied Life of Prominent Mason Comes to its Close Career Included Indian Fighting and Chasing James Boys; Lived Long in Petoskey MI.

Death Friday morning robbed the city of one of her most picturesque characters when Daniel Tripp, pioneer, member of the city police force for many years, warm personal friend and companion of Col. "Buffalo Bill" Cody, Civil war veteran, veteran Indian fighter, woodsman and farmer, was taken.

Mr. Tripp had been ill two months and was at Petoskey hospital for treatment. When taken sick he was at his farm home on Walloon Lake where he had cared for a splendid garden and fine fruit for many summers. Despite his 90 years he was active and last summer worked his farm, doing practically all of the work himself. Two summers ago he was an employee of the Petoskey paper mill. During his last illness he often spoke of the expected end, but expressed no fear of the final passing out. One of his expressed regrets was that he could not live to see all of his grandchildren grow to manhood and womanhood. In accordance with an oft expressed wish Ivanhoe Commandery, No. 36, Knights Templar, will conduct the funeral service.

Mr. Tripp was a member of the following Masonic bodies: Durand Lodge, No. 344, F & AM; Emmet Chapter, No. 104, R. A. M.; Petoskey Council, No.

52 R. & S. M.; Ivanhoe Commandery, No. 36, Knights Templar.

Immediate surviving relatives are the widow and the following children: Mrs. Orrel L. Dodge, Detroit; Mrs. Effie L. Brill, Walloon Lake; James A. Tripp, San Francisco; Robert D. Tripp, Petoskey; Ralph R. Tripp, Detroit.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Henika's chapel under the auspices of Ivanhoe Commandery, No. 36, Knights Templar. Burial in Greenwood.

Coming to Petoskey in 1874, Mr. Tripp homesteaded what is now the Hayes farm in Resort township. He resided with his family there for six years and then moved to Petoskey. Shortly after taking up his residence here he was appointed on the Petoskey police force and served as a policeman for many years.

After leaving the police department Mr. Tripp went to Walloon Lake and for several years resided there. He also lived for some time on a farm in Bay Township, Charlevoix county, and later acquired his farm on the north shores of Walloon lake.

For many years he was caretaker at the Masonic temple in this city where his faithfulness was rewarded by many expressions of appreciation from members of the various Masonic bodies. Mr. Tripp was born June 22, 1831, in Hastings county, Ontario. At the age of about 16 he went to the western gold fields and resided in various parts of the west until the Civil war broke out. He enlisted in the 11th regiment of Kansas Volunteer cavalry and served his country for four years. While in the service he married Miss Mary Gordon, Dec. 4, 1864, in Kansas.

Immediately following the war Mr. Tripp became a member of an independent company organized among former soldiers to hunt down and break up the James Boys gang. He was with this organization for months.

Later he became an Indian fighter, scout and warm personal friend and companion of Col. "Buffalo Bill" Cody. His Indian fighting carried him to many parts of the west and he was in many engagements.

After these strenuous days the veteran came to Michigan and located on a farm at Midland, from which point he moved with his family to Petoskey. [Petoskey Evening News, 1921]

(We have no definite date of birth for Hannah nor do we know her middle name. Even though Elizabeth Waddington was known as Bessie, a newspaper refers to her as "Betsy". The time of Hannah's birth would allow 20 months prior to the birth of the next child. The name of David is obviously a mistake. The Methodist minister of that day likely operated in primitive conditions. He may have served a number of churches and may not have known the parents and thus the confusion of two Biblical names: David/Daniel)

[ATHOL, edited by Philip J. Dodd, 1979] "...Dexter [Trumble], who came from Ireland, lived to be 104 and was married three times." p. 274.

The funeral of Mrs. John A. Trumble was held in Cherry Valley Church Thursday afternoon, with a large attendance of relatives, friends and neighbors. Rev. E. R. Orser of the Free Methodist Church, Picton officiated and preached an eloquent sermon, closing with a touching tribute to Mrs. Trumble as a mother. Mrs. Albert Beckwith sang "One by One" and the hymns were "Rock of Ages" "and Jesus Lover of My Soul." There were many lovely floral tributes. Pall bearers were Messrs. James Wiggins, Albert Beckwith, Horatio Spafford, David Bowerman, Merton Moore and Ed Smith. Interment Cherry Valley Cemetery. Mrs. Trumble passed away on Tuesday, June 20, after a lengthy illness. Her family had been with her and gave her wonderful care. Mrs. Trumble was in her 83rd year and her live was well lived. [Metcalfe Scrapbook Collection] Note burial place discrepancy.

From the book WHEN I WAS A LAD by David Trumble which was compiled by Glen Ellis from tapes of conversations with Dave Trumble. David tells of his personal experiences of his life rather than the historical sweep of events:
"My grandfather was Dexter Trumble, here's the cane he brought with him from Ireland. My grandfather was buried in Trenton."

David tells that his "family moved first from Ireland to Ohio and then up to Canada from there. My grandfather Dexter was in the lumber business in Ohio. My Uncle Jim never came to Canada at all, and my Aunt Cathy came here and only lived a year or two and then she died. There was Uncle Dan and Uncle Dick and Uncle Levi and Uncle Dexter--he was named after my grandfather.

"My mother's people came from England to a place way down towards Ottawa, down in the eastern section. They principally lived there all their life. Didn't move around. That was kind of a backwoods country too.

"My mother's name was Tripp.
She was a Tripp,
Hannah Tripp.

My father was John Trumble."

The greater share of her life has been lived in Prince Edward county in Hillier and Ameliasburg. Surviving are her husband, two half sisters, Mrs. Jotham Moon and Mrs. C. L. McFaul. "At 99 Years of Age Uses Axe on Ice" Residents and visitors to Frankford one day recently stopped and looked. They simply couldn't believe their eyes. But it was true. There was veteran local resident William Tripp out with an axe cutting the ice off the sidewalk in front of his home. Nothing unusual in that? Nothing except that Mr. Tripp is more than 99 years of age and is one of the oldest residents in the area, if not indeed the oldest. Retired for many years, he worked at the Miller Brothers Paper Mill which used to be operated at Frankford. At that time operations were directed there by Walter Miller, while Peter Miller was in charge at Glen Miller which is still in active operation and is one of the more progressive and forward-looking firms in the area. The Tripp family is one of the oldest and most respected in the area and Mr. Tripp is well-known--particularly among residents. His mind is keen and alert and he is still interested in developments in local and national affairs. [Picton Gazette,1959]

"William Tripp Enters His 100th Year" Mr. William Tripp who was born before the American Civil War has entered upon his century in good health and in full possession of his faculties, and the staff of the Trenton Courier Advocate would like to add their best wishes to those of about 35 relatives, friends and neighbors who gathered at his home Mill Street, Frankford, to wish him health and happiness in the years to come. His granddaughter in law, Mrs. Ella Tripp, and her daughter, Mrs. Fred Payne, served refreshments. The honored guest celebrated his 99th birthday last Monday (Feb. 15, 1960). Mr. Tripp is a noted gardener and last year he harvested a bumper crop of potatoes and already we hear he is looking into the seed catalogues in anticipation of Spring planting. [Picton Gazette, 1960]

"Attend Party Marking 100th Birthday" Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson and Harvey, Mrs. William Harvey, Bloomfield, were among county relatives attending a party at Frankford Saturday night to mark the 100th birthday of William Tripp, an Uncle of Mrs. Harvey. Mr. Tripp is in good health and stayed up late to enjoy meeting some sixty relatives and friends. He hears perfectly and watches TV without aid of glasses. All his life has been spent in Frankford where, for many years, he worked in the paper mill. He makes his home with his grandson's wife. The centenarian was presented with lovely gifts. [Picton Gazette]

His tombstone in Stockdale Cemetery (Northumberland) Ontario reads: William H. Tripp 1863-1961 (Note date discrepancy)

Author of When I was a Boy and The Road to St. Ola. Only 5 of his 19 children survived him; m 4 times. David claimed 1867 as his year of birth; 1891 census says "7 years of age"

David Trumble is perhaps the most colorful character in the Tripp family. He claims that he was born in 1867. He died in 1986 and this would put him at about 119 years of age--Canada's oldest living person. His birth date cannot be documented. It is doubtful that he died at 119 years of age, but it is certain that he was well over 100.

Obituary: Trumble, David--at Belleville General Hospital on Saturday, April 5, 1986, David Trumble, of Northbrook, in his 119th year, father of Versy, Scarborough; Clayton, Pickering; Edna Todd, Trenton; Elwood, Northbrook; and Donald, Scarborough. The family will receive friends at the McConnell Funeral Home, Tweed, from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. Monday and at the Northbrook Pentecostal Church from 10 a.m. Tuesday. Funeral service at 1 p.m. Tuesday. Interment Northbrook Cemetery.

"DAVID TRUMBLE: GUINNESS REJECTED HIS CLAIM TO BE OLDEST PERSON ALIVE"

David Trumble, Canada's oldest citizen and possibly the world's oldest person, died Saturday. He claimed to be 118. Trumble, who died at Belleville General Hospital, had resided in a nursing home in nearby Cannifton for a number of years. In February, editors of the Guinness Book Of World Records refused to list him as the world's oldest person--that honor has been held by a 112 year old British woman since the death of a 120 year old Japanese man--because Trumble had no birth certificate. He did have a citizenship card issued by the Federal Government that lists his year of birth as 1867. Nursing home spokesman Stephen Watts believes the card is authentic. "None of the other people here have such a thing," he said. "But it's certainly official, signed by the Citizenship Ministry and with his signature (an X)." When Trumble was born on Dec. 15, 1867, Queen Victoria was on the throne and Sir John A. MacDonald had just inaugurated the first parliament of the Dominion of Canada. In an interview, Trumble recalled shaking hands with MacDonald during the Prime Minister's last election campaign 1891. When Trumble was born, Whistler and Van Gogh were still painting, Maupassant, Ibsen, Tolstoy and Zola were writing and Tchaikovsky, Brahms, Greig and Dvorak were composing. Although in the past year his health had failed, at age 117 a feisty Trumble told a WHIG-STANDARD reporter that some days he "could jump over the moon." Trumble quit smoking when he was 100 and fathered twins, the last of his 19 children, when he was 75. Born in Haliburton, he worked as a lumberjack, miner, trapper, carnival worker, soldier and farmer. Trumble outlived four wives and 14 of his 19 children. He is survived by five children and an unknown number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Trumble lived briefly in Gilmore, near Trenton (where he worked for the Gilmore Lumber Co.) then Northbrook and Cherry Valley. He had no formal education and never learned to read or write, but he taped two books of his life, WHEN I WAS A BOY, published in 1976, and THE ROAD TO ST. OLA, published in 1978, both edited by Glen Ellis of Toronto. He said he attended school for only one day, at age 5. He fell in the mud on his way home and his father supposedly told him: "That's it. You don't go no more. If you can't keep on your feet you can't go to school." Trumble brought a jug of his own potion with him when he first went to the nursing home. It consisted of Ginseng roots and beaver castor, made from the glands of a beaver's groin, and he washed it down with warm brandy. "Take that and you'll never be sick," he used to say. "I'll tell ya, when I take my medicine I could climb a tree backwards." [The Whig Standard April 7, 1986 (Belleville, Kingston or Toronto)]

Excerpts from an article about the funeral: "FAMILY SAYS DAVID TRUMBLE YOUNGER THAN WAS CLAIMED" Buried here Tuesday, a day as raw and bleak as much of the springtime Canadian countryside hereabouts where he lived long, long years. Before he died last weekend there had been conjecture on exactly how many were his years. His funeral didn't exactly dispel the uncertainty although there were family members who now say he was younger than the 118 years of his last birthday that would have made him the oldest Canadian--possibly the oldest man in the world. Some gave his age as 103, 104 and one family relative claimed Trumble himself had recently told him he was 109. But the administrator of the Belleville-area nursing home where Trumble had spent his last years said reducing the centenarian's purported age by a few years could not diminish the fact the man, energetic and lively until recent times, was "just a marvel," with exceptional faculties, physique and intellect...the funeral service packed the little Northbrook Pentecostal Church with friends and relatives who later formed up behind the hearse to walk the highway to the nearby cemetery....his death was due to heart and kidney failure...and the centenarian, no matter how precise his years beyond 100 were, had a personality to draw the media's focus, an energetic conversationalist, never short of a lively or serious answer or memories of times long gone. Donald Trumble was one of Dave's five surviving children, praised his father as a "very positive" man "who got things done" and deeply patriotic about Canada. ... 70 year old Clayton Trumble came out of the church to voluntarily talk to reporters about his father's longevity. He said he was glad his father's reported age hadn't been accepted by Guinness because it was a lie. His father he claimed, was 104. He calculated that from the fact his father was 30 when he married and Dave Trumble's oldest son, Versey Trumble, who lives in Toronto but is at present in the United States, is 73. Clayton, a retired railroader living in Pickering, said he had written admonishing letters to a Toronto newspaper and Toronto broadcaster, the late Gordon Sinclair, after they reported on his father's age. However, his parents' marriage certificate was lost in a fire, he added. His mother, Blanche, died four years ago at 88. Dave Trumble's daughter, Edna Todd, 62 of Trenton, said she figured out from a note in her mother's Bible that her father was about 103. But her stepson, David Todd, of Consecon, said when he visited Trumble at the nursing home last Christmas the centenarian told him he was 109. [Belleville Intelligencer]

Other quotes from various newspaper clippings:

In 1977 he met leading politicians and was introduced from the visitor's gallery at the House of Commons in Ottawa. Following the visit to the H of C he was taken to CBC studios for a taping session. His fourth wife, Phoebe Whittle, 75, a resident of the Hillcrest Nursing Home in Napanee since 1974, has known David all her life. "He rocked me in the cradle when I was a baby in Gilmour," she said. Together 40 years, they had 2 sons, the eldest Elwood, 40, still lives with his father and describes himself as a trapper. She recalled that David "was always eating roots, all kinds of roots. He used to say they were his nerve medicine." A long life seems to run in his family. His grandfather lived to be 104 and his father to 98. The vigorous Northbrook resident, with all his faculties intact except his hearing, belongs to a racial line and an generation known for big families. His grandfather, who came from Ireland, produced 13 children and lived to be 104. His son (David Trumble's father) also produced 13 children. David, with a succession of four wives, fathered 19, although he wasn't married until he was 28. The last child was born when the father was 70. There are now between 100 and 200 grandchildren around the country--Trumble stopped counting when the number reached 100. In his book "When I was a Boy" he talks about the family's log house in the woods at Gunter (west of the present Bon Echo Provincial park), a general store, a church, a school. wolves would come up to the house at night and scratch bones out from under the house. The author tells of helping his father make tables and chairs, bed frames, ploughs, sleigh runners, axe handles, sap implements, bows and arrows and other objects out of wood. The family dried berries and pumpkin for future use, ground corn for every day's Johnnycake, tanned hides and made moccasins and laces. From beef and pork fat mixed with lye from wood ashes, they made their own soap. They killed, and then fried, snakes to obtain snake oil as a medication for wounds. The pioneer family raised sheep, carded and spun the wool and made their own clothing. They gathered honey and bees wax and made their own candles. A turtle's shell served as a wash basin and a pump was made from a section of a hollowed-out tree.

Quotes from Dave Trumble: "Don't get married. A married life takes too much out of you. Mind your own business and be yourself. Eat what you want. Smoke and drink. Smoke won't hurt you. If smoke was going to hurt you, the Lord would have put a chimney on top of your head so the smoke could get out, wouldn't he? It's not what goes in the mouth that defiles the body, it's what goes out. There are too many chemicals today. When I was young I'd go out and eat anything that came along. Roots. Go out and get roots. Eat bark. You take birch bark. If it's the right kind of birch bark it's sweet and nice. And it's healthy. How many people would go to the woods now and eat roots and bark? Like cows. You've read your Bible, haven't you? You remember when Daniel told the King he'd lost his throne. The King was turned out for seven years and he ate like the cattle in the fields. If we ate like the cattle, we'd live. When I was a boy I smoked for years and all I smoked was elm roots. I'd go and get elm roots, wash 'em off, clean 'em up and dry 'em out. When I wanted a cigarette I could break them off. They're brittle. Break 'em off. Smoke an elm root. Ginseng root is the best root you can get a hold of. I'm using it all the time. I make it up in medicine. I take ginseng, put it in a bottle--a good big bottle. Then I take beaver castor, put it all up and put it in the bottle. Then I take snake root, put it in the bottle. Then I fill the rest of the bottle up with whiskey, set it away and leave it there for three or four months. It makes me feel good. It gives ya a jingle."

One of those who believes that Mr. Trumble is the age he claims is William Blakely who lives just west of Cherry Valley. "Back around 1921 my brother Roger and I were working the family homestead. It was about the middle of June and we needed extra help with the crops," Mr. Blakely recalls. "Dave Trumble lived in town with his wife and family and was available for work. That was 56 years ago and I would judge that he was in his fifties at the time. He had great strength. In fact he did the work of two men while he was with us that summer. We had cut some seed clover and raked it in windrows. I asked him to go back to the large field and 'cock' it up. It was a very windy day, making the work difficult and the hay was heavy. In the middle of the afternoon, he came to the barn and asked 'What next?' I said I still wanted the hay handled and he replied to my surprise, 'It's done.' "One day I sent him to the woods to clean up two maples that had been blown down. In the middle of the forenoon, he was back at the barn asking "What's next' and replying to a query as to whether the trees were cut up with, "Yes and a few more." "He was a wizard with a saw and axe," Mr Blakely commented.

"I've been married four times. My first wife was a beautiful woman. She was so pretty you couldn't help but like her. She was one of them beauties. But I was a fool. I should have married the Devil's grandmother, so homely that nobody would want to look at her. If you marry a fine looking woman, everybody is after her. Then I had an Indian woman. Then she died. And I had another woman. She died. My last wife...she's still alive."

"When I was a boy--I call myself a boy e'en though I was 75--I got my back broke. They put me in the hospital for two years and I wasn't giving up. They kept me there for two years. Said they couldn't do no more for me, see, so they was going to put me in the pearly home. I inquired round the hospital what the pearly home was like and they told me it was a place for people who have given up. I said it ain't for me. I got a farm. I goes home. I goes to the barn and kills a calf. I takes the hide to the house and I has a woman sew the hide all round my body. She sewed me right up. I left the calf hid there till it rotted. And I've walked ever since. The doctor said I'd never walk again. I told him, I says, "I'll be walking when you're dead. He died a while ago."

Warrington Wade and Charles LeRoy Tripp were both in the Royal Canadian Air Force during World War II. Warrington Wade was a bomber pilot and was killed in the war. He is buried in England. Charles was an Atlantic Reconnaissance Pilot. He also died in the war and is buried at Belleville.

From Picton Gazette (Picton, Ontario, Canada) November 15, 1985
YOUTHS DIDN'T KNOW THE MEANING OF DEATH: "My boys didn't know what death was or the meaning of death," said Charles Tripp, 95, of Wellington. He was talking about his two sons, Warrington Wade and Charles LeRoy, who died at the young ages of 21 and 23 while fighting overseas in the second world war. "We didn't want them to go but what could you do, it was the depression," said Mr. Tripp realistically. "All boys want to get into uniform. I did too as a lad...it was glamorous." Wade, the older of the two boys, was a bomber pilot and died in 1941. He is buried in England. Mr. Tripp was working for a firm called the Federal Aircraft, a Crown Corp., in Montreal, at the time. The firm was formed to administer the repair and overhaul of the training aircraft. "I've never seen the grave," said Mr. Tripp solemnly. All he has is a photograph taken with his niece at the grave site. For him, Remembrance Day has a lot of special meaning. His second son, Charles, was a North Atlantic Reconnaissance Pilot. Both boys names are on the monument in Belleville and Mr. Tripp travels there to pay tribute if he can or sometimes he has a wreath laid at the Cenotaph in Wellington. "I've done a lot of living and I have a lot of memories," said Mr. Tripp quietly as he sits looking at a photograph of him in his teens when he played for the Belleville Armouries Band. When he and his wife Florence lost their first son, they asked if their second could remain in Canada and so he was not posted overseas but was posted to the East Coast. "It was just too much for Florence after losing Wade," he said sadly. Charles flew cover for the ship he was stationed to protect, first based at Newfoundland then at Nova Scotia. Mr. Tripp's wife died when she was 90 years old. "I suffer from a lack of family now," he said. We had our boys for 20 years and then we were together without them for 20 years. To this day Mr. Tripp believes boys ages 19 or 20 "are not old enough to know what it's all about." They should be at least 25 or 30 years old so they have a "grasp of what was required and a better chance of giving longer service to their country," he says. He believes the government is making a serious mistake "taking advantage" of the Canadian people in taking boys of 18, 19 and training them for pilots. "It's not fair to them or their parents," he said, without any anger or animosity. Talking generally about the Armed Forces, though Mr. Tripp says it is wonderful training for young men. The cadets who train in their teens should be approached years afterwards when they reach an age where they are conscious of what they are doing." His boys were "anxious to get away (from the Depression) and get in the air force and do something." "Under different circumstances I would have kept them from joining," he said. Mr. Tripp was born in Hillier township. He went to school at St. Ola and Frankford. After graduating from Ontario Business College in Belleville in 1910, he headed to Western Canada. He worked for International Harvester Co., in Saskatoon, Sask. Then moved on to Edmonton where he married Florence in 1919. Their two boys were born in Edmonton. "After a few lean years I had enough of the prairies," he said. He moved the family to Minneapolis, Minnesota, and worked for a firm that produced children's shoes. The plant closed in 1932 after the 1929 market crash. Moving back to Belleville, he managed the Beatty Co. Branch Store until 1941 when he joined the aircraft firm, moving on to Montreal. After the war he and his wife moved to Ottawa and in 1948 they moved back to Belleville. In 1948 they purchased a piece of property in Wellington and started the Lakeside Groceteria which was operated until 1955.

"A most delightful and pleasant occasion of Wednesday, May 21, 1969, was the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tripp of Wellington. The couple were married in Grace Church, Winnipeg, June 21, 1919. Hosting a family dinner at Maple Inn, Bloomfield, with 15 members present, was a great pleasure for the bride and groom. The dinner table was tastefully arranged, centered by a three-tier wedding cake flanked by bowls of yellow 'mums. Mr. and Mrs. Tripp were presented with two large bouquets of red and yellow roses--the latter being a gift sent by a nephew of Mrs. Tripp, who resided in Winnipeg and was unable to be present. These bouquets added greatly to the table decor. Following the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Reid opened their lovely home on Glenora Road for a reception to some thirty relatives and friends where Mrs. Lloyd Thompson, Mrs. A. C. Anderson and Mrs. Reid were joint hostesses. During the refreshments served by the hostesses, who were assisted by Joanne Anderson of Kingston and Roxanne Reid of Picton, the wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom and served. During the evening Charles and Florence were pleasantly surprised when presented with a swivel rocker with gold upholstery. Photos of this important event were taken by the groom's nephew, Mr. Lloyd Thompson, during the dinner hour. In May 1919 Mr. Tripp was living in Edmonton Alberta and Mrs. Tripp in Demorestville, where they had planned to be married. However, a week or so before the date set, all telegraphers across Canada went on strike which tied up both railroads. It was decided Mrs. Tripp, or Miss Nelson as she was then, would meet Mr. Tripp in Winnipeg. This was carried out despite travel difficulties and they were married in Grace Methodist Church on the date planned. Mrs. Tripp's parents were the late Urias Nelson and Adelia Coolidge, her grandparents were John Nelson and Caroline Bull. Mrs. Tripp's maternal grandparents were Ira A. Coolidge and Sarah A. Wells who came here from Vermont, USA, around 1850 and settled at Demorestville. They are buried in the White Chapel Cemetery. Mr. Tripp was born in Hillier Township in 1890 son of Peter A. Tripp and Deborah George, his grandparents were Daniel DeMille Tripp and Bessie Waddington, his great grandparents were Richard Tripp born 1785 and Mary DeMille born 1789. Richard and a brother, Israel, born 1776, came here from Dutchess County, NY about 1800. They married two DeMille sisters, Mary and Susanna, daughters of Isaac DeMille (1775-1817). Isaac came from Vermont in 1792 and was one of the first settlers at Northport, Ontario. Richard's brother, Israel's first son, Isaac, born 1803 married Hannah Sprung whose family consisted of Daniel, David, Rensselaer, Emmeline, Israel, Baker, Maria, Alzina and Elizabeth. OBITUARY: Tripp, Charles, at the Belleville General Hospital, Monday, March 16, 1987. Charles DeMille Tripp of 23 West Street, Wellington. Beloved husband of the late Florence Adella Nelson, dear father of the late F/S W. Wade and F/O Charles L. Tripp in his 87th year. Resting at the Ainsworth Funeral Home, 288 Noxon Avenue, Wellington. Funeral service Wednesday, March 18, at 2 p.m. Entombment Wellington Cemetery Vault, Masonic Lodge services evening at 7:30 p.m. (Above was handwritten and taken from the Belleville paper and sent to Mrs. Illean Hammar by Ada Yateman (323) Trenton.)

Following is from a résumé sent to Illean Hammar April 1984 from Charles DeMille Tripp:

"I attended elementary or public school through the 8th grade at St. Ola and Frankford. There was no high school there so Charles went to work at this and that for a few years, but wasn't content. With his parents' blessing and the money my mother had helped me save from my earnings I took a 10-month course at Ontario Business College, Belleville, Ontario, (February to October 1910). I liked it very much and with my diploma headed for Western Canada which was the thing to do just then. I arrived in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, in April 1911. It was then more or less a tent or shack city. I started with the International Harvester Company in their collection Department as cashier and accountant. After 8 years I advanced to Office Manager and a staff of about 36. The 1st war had come and gone and I was anxious to get into sales work. I was in the Reserve Army as a bandsman but could not get overseas.

"In November 1918 I went to Edmonton and started with Adams Brothers Wholesale Company in charge of their office and after taking over manager of the branch and going through a couple of crop failures I gave up the prairies.

"We were married and our two boys (Wade and Charles) were born in Edmonton. In 1925 June we sold our home and moved to Minneapolis. I was with Dodson Fisher Company from 1925 until August 1932 as superintendent of their factory which produced shoes, saddles and other leather products. The market crash came in 1929 but the company hung on till 1932 but had to give up. Again, we sold our home and moved. This time to Belleville, Ontario. There I was store manager for the Beatty Company till May 1941 when due to lack of merchandise the company was forced to close.

"With the war (2nd) on, the government formed a Crown Corporation, Federal Aircraft, to administer the repair and overhaul of our training aircraft. I went with them as field officer for Ottawa, Montreal and maritime districts with offices in Ottawa and Montreal. In 1944 with the end of the war in Europe we were back in Ottawa and I worked from there as termination officer making contract settlements until 1948 from Halifax to Vancouver.

"We had stored most of our furniture in our summer home near Rednersville when we left in 1941. In 1948 we purchased a property in Wellington and started the Lakeside Groceteria which we operated until November 1955, when we sold out. We both enjoyed the store and had an upstairs apartment to live in. We then purchased a large house, planted a half acre of raspberries and garden. We had a good time working outside in summer and to Florida most winters. After 8 years we got tired of that and the large house. We sold and had a small 2-bedroom home built to our order where we spent the balance of our 63 1/2 years of a very happy, busy and interesting marriage."

Charles did research in family history and provided extensively to this work.

Daniel served in the army, 28th Battalion, overseas during World War I. Wounded in France - Hill 70. Returned home just as the war was drawing to a close. Started a harness and shoe repair business in Trenton Ontario. However, as a result of his war wounds he had to go back into the military hospital, Christy Street Hospital Toronto, for further medical treatment. This proved to be the case a lot throughout his adult life. Upon getting out of the hospital he moved his business to the village of Ameliasburg. It was here that his father began to assist him somewhat and learn the harness and shoe repair trade from his son. Daniel again had to go back in the hospital and when he got out this time, it being 1923, he moved his business to Wellington and his father remained with him. In 1926 Daniel retired from the harness and shoe repair business and sold out to his father. Again he returned to Christy Street Hospital for treatment when he again returned home he remained semi-retired for a while and did odd jobs. Then he bought his old harness and shoe repair business back from his father and continued to run it for a number of years until he got a rural mail route. At that point in time he gave up the harness and shoe repair business and delivered mail until he retired. [Source: Ronald Holmes from Burt Pearsoll's Tripp Family History Collection.]

Obituary, Picton (Ontario) Gazette, Wednesday, October 19, 1988:
Photographer Lloyd Thompson, who passed away last week in an Ottawa Hospital, will long be remembered not only for his charm and wit, but for his photographic works--many of which have been published in books and newspapers, said long-time friend Al Capon. "I was shocked and saddened to hear of the death of Lloyd Thompson," said Capon, whose popular "Picton Remembered" book, commissioned by the town of Picton was graced with Thompson photography. "As a portrait photographer he was second to none." Thompson, a native of Belleville, who lived and worked out of Prince Edward County for many of his working years, died in the Ottawa Civic Hospital Heart Institute last Tuesday. He was 70 years old. Last Wednesday evening at Picton Council, officials observed a minute of silence in memory of Thompson, who had taken official photographs for Picton and Prince Edward County Councils and other local groups, organizations and businesses for close to three decades. "Lloyd Thompson was a photographer of note and one of the nicest fellows I have ever known," said Picton Mayor Charles Hepburn. "We will always remember him for his good sense of humour, good reporting and good photography." Thompson began his photographic career in London, Ontario, in 1938, as an apprentice to Robert Darragh. He then worked in various parts of Ontario before enlisting in the Royal Canadian Air Force Mobile Photography unit in 1942 and would see front-line service in Europe in the years to come. He went on to become the official Air Force portrait photographer, retiring in 1958. After working in Ottawa with Yousef Karsh's brother, Malak, Thompson opened a portrait studio at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, before moving back to Eastern Ontario. Thompson, choosing to live in Northport, opened a studio in Picton which he operated until 1977. During his stay in Prince Edward County, Thompson--though heavily involved in his studio work--always had an association with the media, according to Capon. Thompson would attend Council and Board of Education meetings for CJBQ radio and his photography regularly appeared in the Picton Gazette area newspapers and the Toronto newspapers. Perhaps Thompson's most notable local work was his series of portraits which appeared in the Gazette in the 1970's as "Portrait of the Week." Thompson very much enjoyed taking portrait pictures, and was fascinated with the character of the faces much more than who the person was, Capon said. "He would grab people off the street into his studio for a picture, just because he liked their faces," said Capon. "He would have everybody from a good looking young girl to old men with wrinkles in his portraits." Thompson had patience and understanding when it came to photographing people. "We have all seen the results of this self-conscious gyration in the pictures of ourselves that we hate so much--indeed, having your picture taken is a far more profound emotional experience than most of us realize since it involves the risk that we may see ourselves as others see us," he said while at a speaking engagement for the Picton Rotary Club in 1971. "What people want of a photograph is an image of themselves that is acceptable to themselves," he told the service group. Besides having his work appear in two of Capon's books of Prince Edward County Stories, Thompson's own "At Face Value," a book featuring many of his portraits, was published by the Gazette in 1976. During his years, Thompson photographed many celebrities and politicians, including John Diefenbaker, Lester Pearson, hockey great Bobby Hull and theater personalities John Drainie and Robert Goulet. His works have hung at embassies and at Buckingham Palace. He once approximated his collection of negatives to be in the range of over 150,000 pictures. An ongoing project for Thompson in recent years was photographing Anglican churches in Ontario, and more recently he and Capon were completing another county publication. Interestingly, his last home, an apartment on Ann Street in Belleville, is located just down the street from his childhood home. Thompson is predeceased by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson and is survived by his wife, Hilda; children Pamela, John and Peter, and three grandchildren. A special memorial service for Thompson was held in Belleville last Friday.

OBITUARY: Leonard Wellington Keith Tripp
Len Tripp passed away suddenly at Prince Edward County Memorial Hospital on September 20, 1987. A well-known and respected resident of Picton, he was in his 74th year. Born in Hillier on July 1, 1914, he was the seventh child of Daniel Nelson Tripp and Ina Matilda Unger and a life-long resident of the county. On January 4, 1940, he married Doris Trixie Snowdrop Smith of Picton at St. Mary Magdalene Church, Picton, and together in 1946 they built their home at 102 Bridge Street where they resided over the years and raised a family. Mr. Tripp is survived by three children, Barbara (Mrs. Doug Pitt) of Picton, Linda (Mrs. Burt Pearsoll), Ancaster, and Gerald Tripp and wife Wanda, Markham and six grandchildren: Suzanne, Melissa, Charles Keith Smith and Hart. He also leaves behind three brothers, Elwood and Lee Tripp, both of Belleville, Harold Tripp, Centralia and sister Norma (Mrs. George Guernsey) of Wellington. He was predeceased by wife Doris, and infant son Thomas Leonard; two brothers, Sam and Albert Tripp and one sister Eltha (Mrs. Anthony Adams.) As a young man, Len Tripp fished commercially out of Wellington for four years before starting his own harness and shoe repair business, having learned his father's trade as a youth. However, he closed it after five years in anticipation of going overseas with the Armed Forces but was ineligible due to a hearing impairment. As a result he worked at the Royal Hotel in Picton on the front desk for a year and a half before accepting a position with the T. Eaton & Co. as head of the shoe department. Reapplying for the service in 1943, he was accepted and posted to Barriefield in Kingston with the Royal Canadian Ordinance Corps where he was stationed for one year. He was then transferred to the Royal Canadian Electrical Mechanical Engineers at Camp Borden where as a tradesman he was primarily involved in repairing motorcycles and tanks. Upon discharge in 1946 Len Tripp returned to Picton where he was once again employed by the T. Eaton & Co., this time as manager of shoe, hardware and piece goods departments. In 1950 he resigned to become a life insurance agent for Metropolitan Life and served as a representative for 11 years. At this time he took a position with the Town of Picton and served as Town Assessor, Tax Collector and Building Inspector for three years before becoming manager of Lipson's furniture department while at the same time retaining his Building Inspector duties. In 1966, Mr. Tripp joined the Town of Picton's Fire Department as a permanent firefighter having been volunteer since 1961. In 1968 he was appointed Chief of the Fire Department for the town of Picton, retiring from this position in 1979. For many years Len Tripp was a committed volunteer to his community having served as a school trustee from 1952 to 1956 and as a coach and manager in minor hockey between 1957 and 1963. It was during his terms of office as school trustee that the Queen Elizabeth Public School was built. He was also a member of the IOOF and the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 78, Picton. Funeral services were held at Hicks Funeral Home, Picton, on Tuesday, September 22, 1987, with Canon J. R. Neal, St. Mary Magdalene, officiating. Canadian Legion Branch 78 service was held Monday evening. In tribute to their former chief, two Picton firemen in full dress uniform were posted on either side of the casket during visiting hours. Picton firemen and representatives from fire departments in the area formed an honor guard to the hearse. Their departmental cars led the funeral procession past the Picton Firehall to the Cherry Valley Cemetery where interment took place. Pallbearers were Randolph Clapp, Jim McKnight, Larry Bond, Herbert Vincent, Rex Cross and Clifford McAlpine.

A number of settlers in the Prince Edward County Ontario came from Dutchess County. It isn't hard to imagine how an unsettled home life for a teenager and a young man would encourage Israel and Richard to attach themselves to a party of settlers seeking land. Joseph Clapp from Poughkeepsie (Dutchess County) during the winter 1780-1781 drove in a sleigh with a family of three, via Lake Champlain and Montreal to Adolphustown Ontario. The trip took one month. (p. 7, Spring 1990, Searchlight). He fought in the Revolutionary War with Colonel Roscoe of Dutchess County. Clifford M. Buck, a member of the Dutchess County Historical Society, wrote an article "Dutchess County People: Pioneer settlers of Adolphustown and Archives," RR. #, Norwich Ont., N0J 1P0. Obituary Stanley W. Tripp: "Prince Edward County lost one of its most prominent and highly esteemed citizens in the passing of Stanley W. Tripp, at his home in Union Vale, Hallowell township, on March 22, 1944. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. R. Pair, pastor of the Pentecostal church, Picton. Interment Glenwood Cemetery. Mr. Tripp was born in Hillier township in the year of 1861 and early in life moved to Hallowell township where he resided until the time of his passing. In 1889, Mr. Tripp was married to Miss Rosa Bell Vincent also of Hallowell township. To this union were born two children; One daughter, Otta Irene, predeceased her father several years. One son, Arthur, who with his mother, and a brother Bert Tripp and a sister, Mrs. Annie Kellar, Picton, are the only immediate survivors.

Mr. Tripp was endowed with many fine qualities. He was a very considerate husband and father and one who made and retained many friends. He was a well-versed man in the affairs of the community and from an early age took keen interest in the well-being of the community at large. About the beginning of this century, Mr. Tripp became associated with the Sawyer Massey Co. in the capacity of travelling salesman, and continued in this capacity for about twenty years, travelling continuously through northern and eastern Ontario. In 1914, Mr. Tripp, as one of the organizers of the Gore G. Telephone Co. became its president and remained in that office until death. For a short time he operated an automobile agency in the town of Picton, and in 1928 became associated with the canning industry, and continued in that business until a short time before his death. He organized the Eastern Ontario Canned Foods Association and was the president of this organization at the time of his passing.

Mr. Tripp was also prominent in municipal affairs, having held the office of Deputy-Reeve, Reeve and also served on the Township Council and County Council. In politics Mr. Tripp was a Liberal, always taking great interest in the affairs of the government.

At an early age, Mr. Tripp was converted and became a member of the Bloomfield Methodist Church, his membership continuing with this church until about twenty-three before his death, when he became associated with the Pentecostal people of Picton.

In his declining years, Mr. Tripp's health was not the best, yet he continued to be very active until the last. In the passing of Mr. Tripp the community has lost an honorable and highly respected citizen." [Metcalfe Scrapbook Collection]

Obituary, David W. Tripp: "After a lingering illness, there passed away in Prince Edward County Hospital on Dec. 31, 1937, David Whitford Tripp. Mr. Tripp's kind and loving disposition made for him a host of friends, who will mourn his passing. David Tripp was the son of the late David Tripp and his wife Phoebe Jones, who predeceased him some years ago, also three brothers, John, James and Lindall; three sisters, Annie, Utiney and Maggie. He leaves to mourn his passing, his wife, formerly Elsie Scriver; one son, Ernest, and a daughter, Leafa and one brother Thomas of Picton.

Endowed with a gentle, lovable disposition, Mr. Tripp unselfishly sacrificed himself for the comfort of his family to a most unusual degree. He was ever patient, kind and thoughtful and his natural dignity and poise endeared him to everyone who was fortunate enough to know him.

We who now walk along without this loved brother by our side, do not, cannot, as yet realize our deep loss. But if, during his last year, we have been as wise as we are now we would have known that the last few months were a preparation for the great change to come.

Although his entire life was a consecration to the work of the Master, Mr. Tripp assumed a more spiritual attitude and appeared to be seeking some solace which neither this world nor its inhabitants seemed able to give him.

Gradually this life devoted to the service of others drew to its close. A weary, ailing body sought everlasting grace and a soul released from earthly travail returned to its Creator. David Whitford Tripp is At Rest.

The funeral service was held at the home of his son on Waupoos road on Monday, Jan 3. Rev. F. E. Manktelow and Adj. Johnston officiated. The pall bearers were S. G. Lockyer, G. Cooper, E. Anderson, J. Bowers, F. Courneya and R. Baxter. Interment was made in Fish Lake Cemetery." [Metcalfe Scrapbook Collection]

Wedding Channell-Facey: Bloomfield United Church was the scene of a lovely wedding at 12:30 Saturday afternoon, April 3, when Florence Nellie Facey, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Facey, Belton, Ont., became the bride of George Edward Channell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Channell, Wellington. The altar was banked with greenery and palms with baskets of snapdragons and daffodils adding a bright note. White bows marked guest pews. Rev. M. Buttars of Bloomfield, was assisted in the service by Rev. Clifford Smith of Port Perry. Mrs. Curtis Stanton was at the organ and Miss Reta Willard of Oakville, sang during the signing of the registry with Mrs. Smith at the piano.

Given in marriage by her brother, Kenneth Facey of Belton, the bride wore a lovely gown of ivory crepe, made with round neckline, embroidered net yoke, long sleeves ending in points over the wrist, full skirt with long train and gathered in bustle effect. Her long veil of embroidered tulle illusion was caught with orange blossoms and she carried red roses.

Miss Edna Channell, Wellington, sister of the groom was maid of honor. Her gown was of mauve taffeta, while the short veil fell from a sequin-trimmed headdress. Miss Norma Channell, Wellington, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Her gown was made on lines similar to that worn by the bridesmaid and was of turquoise blue. Her veil fell from a sequin-trimmed headdress. She carried pink roses. Miss Shirley Wannamaker, Trenton, niece of the groom was a pretty flower girl. Her frock was yellow nylon over taffeta and long ribbons fell from a matching headdress. Her nosegay was of sweet peas and rosebuds. Wm. Martin, Kitchener was groomsman. The ushers were Vernon Christy, Bloomfield, Beverley Kent and Bruce Beare of Port Perry and Owen Cliff, Toronto. The reception followed at "Maple Inn", Bloomfield. The 75 guests were received by the groom's mother who wore purple crepe with white accessories and corsage of yellow roses and by the bride's aunt, Mrs. G. Hooper of Belton, who wore a flowered silk jersey dress with brown accessories and corsage of red roses. [Metcalfe Scrapbook Collection]

"In the early morning hours of March 7, 1992, The Maple Inn, a landmark in Bloomfield since 1944, burned to the ground. As the news of this disastrous fire spread through the village, the residents could not help but reminisce about the happy times many could remember spending at the Inn over the years attending Engagement Dinners, Wedding Receptions, Anniversaries and many other happy celebrations. George Channell, the original owner of the Inn and a well-known local personality, was constantly mentioned as a good host and chef...In 1944 George Channell, a cheesemaker who worked at the Bloomfield Cheese Factory and who also had a great fondness for cooking, bought the property from Bert Pearsoll. On Easter Sunday, April 9, 2944, The Maple Inn opened for business...In the 1960's while attending school in Port Hope, the then young Prince Andrew (the Queen's second eldest son) dined at The Maple Inn...In 1948 George Channell married Florence (Flossie) Facey, and they managed the operation of The Maple Inn. They introduced overnight accommodation and later on, weekly accommodation to persons requiring such a service...The three panelled dining rooms could sit 140 at a time. The Menu of the Day was read to you by the waitresses (usually local young ladies), and this system was unique at that time. By now the Channell's daughter, Marilyn, had joined them in running the Inn and the time seemed right for expansion. In the 1960's a large modern dining room was added on the west side of the Inn. The Channells also lived in the Inn, having built a fine brick bungalow for themselves and also one for their daughter Marilyn and her family on the property. Times were changing and after 31 years, the Channells decided to put The Maple Inn up for sale in August 1975." [County Magazine, Summer Issue 1992, #64, article by Joy Mathews, pp. 32-34]

"On Wednesday afternoon, at four o'clock, Rev. W. R. Pair officiated at a quiet but pretty wedding at his home when Ruth Arlene, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Tripp, Demorestville, RR 3, was united in marriage to John Clifton (Jack) Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Noble, East Lake. The bride was in a street length dress of light blue sheer which was trimmed with touches of gold across the yoke. Her hat and shoes were navy blue. Miss Marie Tripp, who was her sister's bridesmaid, was in Old Gold crepe trimmed with brown, brown hat and shoes. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Hugh Noble. After the ceremony the happy couple left for Brockville and points east. For travelling the bride had chosen a navy sheer two-piece dress, a coat of navy flecked tweed with navy hat, shoes and accessories. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm, Waupoos road. [Metcalfe Scrapbook Collection]

Calnan-Hubbs Wedding: A summer wedding of wide interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oral B. Calnan, Bloomfield Road, on Wednesday, when their daughter, Gena Pearl, was married to Mr. Roger Haviland Hubbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Hubbs, Bloomfield. Captain the Rev. Verne Zufelt performed the ceremony which took place in front of the fireplace, arranged with pink and white zinnias, gladioli and roses entwined with pink and white tulle. Mr. Calnan gave his daughter in marriage. Her graceful street length dress of delft blue sheer crepe had a shirred bodice and square neckline, and she carried a bouquet of Dream roses and baby's breath. Her bridesmaid was Miss Rebecca Hubbs, sister of the bridegroom. She was wearing a navy sheer crepe trimmed with white and carried a Colonial bouquet of Briarcliffe roses, verbena and aderatum. Mr. Harvard Calnan brother of the bride, was groomsman. Mrs. Walter Snider, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music.

A reception followed, the guests, about thirty in number, being served a buffet luncheon. The table with a lace cloth was centered with a three-tier wedding cake and pink candles, with a white wedding bell suspended above. Mrs. Harvard Calnan poured tea. The assistants were: Mrs. Walter Snider, Mrs. Jack Coukell, Misses Jean Hubbs and Doris Calnan.

Mr. Hubbs and his bride left by motor for Toronto and Niagara Falls. For travelling the bride donned a navy striped suit with navy accessories. They will reside at Bloomfield. [Metcalfe Scrapbook Collection]

Obituary: Detroit Free Press 26 October 1988, p. 10C "Born to a Shakespearean actress mother, Celia Merrill Turner played on the stage of Detroit's Bonstelle Theatre at age eight, and was never far from the footlights thereafter. She became the first woman to win a Julliard School scholarship as a conductor. She was a WAC during World War II, and played violin in the Armed Forces Radio Services Orchestra behind stars like the Andrews Sisters, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Greer Garson. In 1940 she founded the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre in Bloomfield Hills, which trained 1,000 aspiring actors through the years before closing last year." "...In 1981, Mrs. Turner was cited in a state Senate and House resolution for her contributions to the theater..."

De Mille

DEMILLE

"Laurens DeMil was born in the year 1520 in the village of St. Lieven's-Essche in Flanders. Assuming his mother Josina DeMil to have been twenty at the time of that happy event she with the sixteenth century would have been born in 1500.

"This was a time of turbulence, challenge and perilous changes as Europe shook itself free of medieval times and plunged forward into its modern destiny. The renaissance had reached France only a few years before and would reach England a short time later. It was only eight years since the epic first voyage of Christopher Columbus. The rumblings of the reformation which had just begun in earnest would be confirmed in 1515 when Martin Luther nailed his theses on the door of the Wittenburg Church to begin the long, cruel and bloody struggle between Catholic and Protestant. Henry VII sat upon the English throne which he had wrested from the usurper Richard III in 1485 and thus established the glorious Tudor Dynasty. It is in these uncertain days that the known history of the DeMille family begins.

"Sometime in that year, 1520, Laurens DeMil was born. Although we know no more of his parents than his mother's first name Josina and his father's last name DeMil, it is reasonable to suppose the prefix De suggests the family was of good birth and probably were of the minor gentry perhaps owning some land near or including the village.

"Laurens DeMil married a girl four years his junior but of the same village. They too had at least one child Anthony, born in 1555 in their commune of St. Lievens-Essche. Nothing further do we know of Laurens and his wife except that they were very likely Huguenots or French Protestants.

"The supposition that the DeMils were Huguenots is supported by the fact that Anothony had moved to the Dutch city of Haarlem before 1558 when his son Isaac was born.

"If in fact the DeMils were Huguenots, the likely time of Anothony's emigration to Holland would be the fall of 1572 when he was a youth of seventeen. It is quite possible that his father Laurens and the rest of the family also found it advisable to go and to go quickly.

"Up to this time protestantism had been officially allowed in France and both Protestants and Catholics got along reasonably well together. At the instigation of the French Queen Catherine De Medici, this policy was reversed secretly and without warning. In the early hours of August 25, 1572, the St. Bartholomew's Eve massacre began. Starting in Paris with the assassination of Huguenot leaders it soon spread throughout all the Country and to all Protestants irrespective of age or sex. When this terrible event ended on October 3, fifty thousand Huguenots had been murdered and thousands more had fled for their lives to the safety of the Protestant countries of Germany, England and the Netherlands. In celebration of this cruel and terrible outrage against humanity, Pope Gregory XIII in keeping with the true spirit of the Vicar of Christ ordered bonfires to be lit and a medal struck.

"Whatever the reason, Anthony DeMile removed himself to Haarlem where he married a girl who in 1558 had been born there. Her name was Grietjen Plovier. Although the dates and places of their deaths are unknown it is known that Anothony and Grietjen had a son Isaac born in Haarlem in 1584. He probably was not their first child because at the time of his birth Anothony was 41 and Greitjen 38 years of age.

"Isaac DeMile (1584-1652) grew up and married a girl born in 1588 whose name we do not know. In 1625 Isaac and his wife had a son whom they named Anothony after his grandfather. Isaac died in 1652 aged 68 years. When his wife died is not known.

"Anthony DeMill (1625-1689) married first Elizabeth Van der Liphorst in 1653. He m^2 Sarah Vanderliphorst (1632-1687) also of Haarlem. Their first two children were born there in 1654 and 1657 respectively. Their third child Isaac was born in 1659 in New Amsterdam which means they had emigrated to America in 1658.

"In 1609, Henry Hudson then in the employ of the Dutch East India Company reported to his employers the great potential for trade with the Indians that he had noted during his explorations of the Hudson River the previous year. The Dutch being shrewd traders became involved in North America immediately. The colony of New Netherlands was established with its principal city becoming New Amsterdam on Manhattan Island which the Dutch had purchased from the Indians.

"The English were also active and claimed the same area. In 1653 fearing an English attack, the Dutch built a wall at the northern limit of New Amsterdam across Manhattan Island from which the present Wall Street derives its name. The Dutch governor of the time Peter Stuyvesant through vigorous recruiting increased the population of the new Netherlands from two thousand souls in 1653 to ten thousand in 1664. Anthony Demille and his family no doubt came out in 1658 in response to Stuyvesant's inducements.

"Anthony De Mill was prominent in the colony. First he was a miller and a baker. He was appointed Schout (bailiff or Sheriff) of New York on August 17, 1676, and was the first chief magistrate after the restoration of the States-General. They had six children. The first three were boys. Peter the second son became a miller and was a captain. The three girls were accounted the finest Latin scholars in the colony.

"The following year on December 7, 1659, Isaac the third child of Anthony and Sarah was born in New Amsterdam. He was the first of the DeMills to be born in America. He was indeed a very early European native of North America having come along only one hundred and sixty-seven years after Columbus' discovery of the New World and ninety-four years after the first permanent European settlement in North America was established in St. Augustine, Florida in 1565.

"Little Isaac was not to remain a Dutch citizen for very long. In 1664 when he was only five years old, Stuyvesant in the face of overwhelming British force surrendered the whole colony bloodlessly to them and the Union Flag was raised over New Amsterdam and its name changed to New York.

"Isaac's mother Sarah died in 1687 aged 52, followed two years later by her husband Anthony in 1689 when he was 64.

"Isaac De Mill (December 7, 1659-1712) married Sarah Joosten Van Syssen (1661-?). Sarah too had been born in New Amsterdam the daughter of Joost Van Syssen and Christina Jans. They had a son Joost DeMill born on July 26, 1699 in New York, NY. Joost probably was not their first child as his father would have been forty and his mother thirty-eight when he arrived. He was a carpenter and shipscarpenter.

"Joost DeMill married Margriete Willemse (Williams) b 1702. We know nothing more of them except that she died in Phillipsburg Center, PA and that they had at least one child, another Isaac, christened May 11, 1727.

"This Isaac DeMill married Margrieta Stillwell (b 1729 d after 1817). Although we know he was christened May 11, 1727, his dates of birth and death are unknown. His wife, Margrieta was born in 1729 and died at a great age after 1817 (over 88 at least). We know this from the fact that her son, another Isaac took her with him when with his family he emigrated to Sophiasburg Township, where she died and he also made provisions for her in his will when he himself died in 1817. Isaac and Margrieta had a son Isaac (the fourth in the DeMill line) born on November 27, 1754, in New York NY. He would become the Canadian Pioneer Loyalist.

"Isaac DeMille (b November 27, 1754 d September 29, 1817) married Mary Dixon, (b 1768 d 1847). He was born in New York and she in Vermont. Both died in Sophiasburg. They are buried in the Cronk-Lazier Cemetery about two miles east of Northport in Sophiasburg Township, Prince Edward County (Ontario Canada).

"Isaac DeMille probably had moved from New York to Vermont prior to the Revolutionary War. At that time Vermont was officially part of New York but was also claimed by New Hampshire. It did not become a state until 1717. In Vermont he met and married his wife Mary Dixon, a native of that area.

"Isaac DeMille's name is on the United Empire Loyalist lists. It states that he worked in a civilian capacity in the Navy department in New York City throughout the War and was put on the U. E. list in recognition of those services.

"Isaac DeMille and his family came to Canada in 1792 is confirmed by both Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte and family records. These show his fifth child, Barbara, to have been born in Vermont in 1791 and his sixth child John, in Sophiasburg in 1793.

"On August 28, 1810, Isaac DeMille was given a Crown grant to Lot 26 on the 1st Concession of Sophiasburg comprising some 338 acres. (see p. 170) In his will, he left the rear third, fronting on Water Street in the community of Fish Lake to his son John. The remainder was to be divided evenly between his sons Isaac and Peter. He left to his son Daniel three hundred acres in Murray Township, being Lot 16 and the east half of 17 in the 5th Concession. He also left provision for the comfortable support of his mother. There is no further record of the old lady Margrieta who at the time of her son Isaac's death in 1817 would have been 88 years old.

"The genealogical information; i.e., names, dates and places down to the Canadian pioneer loyalist comes from the archives of the Church of Latter Day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah, and was kindly sent by Mr. James C. Tripp of Trenton, Ontario.

"Confirmation that this Isaac DeMille's wife was Mary Dixon is to be found in the Rev. Robert McDowell's register of marriages and births now in the Archives of Queen's University, Kingston." [Received from Charles Mikel, M.D., Cobourg, Ontario]

From Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte

"The DeMilles, as their name would indicate, are of French origin. Their ancestor was Anthony DeMille, who was born in Scotland, and whose forefathers had been driven from France during the persecutions of the Huguenots. He emigrated to America, settling on the site of the present city of New York, and married Elizabeth Vanderliphorst. Their family numbered nine, four sons and five daughters. Some members of the family migrated to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick; and two came to Upper Canada. . . .

"One of the family who came into Upper Canada was Isaac DeMille, who came from Vermont, in 1792, and settled near the present Northport. He took up two hundred acres in that vicinity, and also obtained a grant of six hundred acres in the township of Reach.

"Prince Edward was a wild spot when Isaac DeMille and his family settled; wolves, bears and wildcats abounded. There was fishing and trapping to supply the family larder; but it was necessary to constantly guard their sheep, for the loss of a single fleece might mean a deficiency when it came to making the winter clothing. The entire clothing of the early settlers was made of wool and the pelts of animals they shot or trapped. It was not until some years later that sufficient land had been cleared to permit them to grow flax. With its introduction there was a greater variety in clothing, and articles from its manufacture quickly came into common use.

"Isaac DeMille died as early as 1817 at the age of sixty-two years. His wife [Mary Dixon] whom he married in 1780, survived him until 1846. They are commemorated by a numerous posterity." "The first people in the village [of Northport] were James Morden and Isaac DeMille in 1791. The Solmes's came soon after and the Spragues in 1812. Morden's is said to have been the first house in Sophiasburg. " p. 208

The death dates of Isaac and Mary (Dixon) DeMille are taken from their tombstones located in Cronk-Lazier Cemetery, Sophiasburg Twp. 2 miles east of Northport. Mary DeMille's name is found in the Rev. Robert McDowell's Register of Marriages and Births, Archives, Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario Canada. Her birth date is an estimate arrived at by subtracting her age at death from her year of death.

Israel Tripp's birthplace is Beekman's Precinct, Dutchess County, New York State. It is a guess that both Israel and his brother Richard were living there at the time of the United States Census of 1790. (THIS HAS NO PROOF, it was only speculation on the part of Charles Tripp). The brothers came to Sophiasburg, Prince Edward County in 1796/7 and lived near Fish Lake.

The name of Cecil B. DeMille, of motion picture fame, is found on the records held at the Latter Day Saints Library, Salt Lake City, Utah. The common ancestor is Peter de Mil, a brother to Isaac. Isaac and Peter were sons of Anthony deMil and Elizabeth Van der Liphorst. They came on the ship "Gilded Beaver." (Freeborn DeMille Family History and Genealogy, compiled by Issa M. R. Lazier, Nicholas; m Charity Conklin. Had 8 children. Came with family and slaves to set 120 acres Sophiasburg, c 1792. His son acquired farms in Prince Edward County and operated mills at Lonsdale (Hastings) built by James in 1842. Son William built Lazier House (circa 1852); James m Meredith Dorland. MILLTOWN: An 1878 atlas of Hastings County gave this description: "The village of Milltown is appropriately named. This is the third largest village in the township and like the others, is largely engaged in manufacturing. The Messrs. Lazier have a flouring and sawmill which do a large business. [Ghost Towns of Ontario by Ron Brown, p. 41]

"The Lazier mill used its three run of stone to churn out 30-40,000 bushels" (per year). "Richard Lazier, grandson of Nicholas, was born in Shannonville and later went into milling, not only at Milltown but Lonsdale as well." [Ghost Towns of Ontario by Ron Brown, p. 42]

Lazier Cemetery: Located on the Bayview Road west of Northport, this cemetery dates back to 1799 and commemorates one of the area's first pioneers. This pioneer, Nicholas Jacobus Lazier, came to Canada from Yonkers, New York, in 1791 and settled on land east of Northport. With him came his wife and eight children. Included in his household were slaves, an indication of his family's wealth.

Because Nicholas refused to swear allegiance to the newly established American government, several of his grist mills were confiscated and he was forced to flee. Upon arriving in Prince Edward County, Lazier again erected a grist mill, this one situated beside a small creek on his property.

Evidence of Nicholas Lazier's prosperity lies in the fact that he was able to bequest a farm to each of his sons. Most of them settled on what is now known as County Road 5 but two of his sons remained in the area between Northport and Demorestville.

Because the cemetery is located beside the Lazier homestead, it became known as Lazier, although the property actually belonged to the Cronks. The land for the cemetery was sold by Abraham Cronk of the township of Sophiasburg to Wm. Foster and Benjamin Way, trustees of the burying ground for the sum of five pounds, lawful money of Upper Canada on October 12, 1817.

"People had been pouring steadily into the county (Prince Edward) since the war until, by 1820, there was no more crown land available. The were still refugees, "Yorkers," mostly from the Hudson River Valley. They traveled in batteaux, Durham or Schenectady boats (smaller but otherwise the same as the Lachine-built boats) in convoy or singly. Their usual route--clearly marked on a powder horn the Blakely family brought with them from Massachusetts--was up the Hudson River to Albany, along the Mohawk River and up one of its branches called Wood Creek to Oneida Lake, portaging their heavy boats sometimes as many as 30 miles. From Oneida Lake they came to Oswego, out onto Lake Ontario and across; a long trip, tiresome and discouraging. The Lamberts who came to Sixth Town took six weeks to come from Albany to Gravelly Point. Nicholas Lazier and his family were a month at Schenectady building their boat." [THE COUNTY by

"The Laziers came to Green Point quite well off. They owned slaves, had cash, livestock, iron kettles to make maple sugar, a churn full of honey and lengths of wire gauze Nicholas had used in his fanning fill in New Jersey." [THE COUNTY by Richard and Janet Lunn (1967) The Picton Gazette Publishing Co., Ltd., Picton Ontario Canada, p. 88.]

"In 1793, Nicholas Lazier paid $25 to Tobias Rychman, for 200 acres." [The Settlement of Upper Canada by William Canniff, p. 467]

"Nicholas Lazier had slaves. One, named Sal, was noted for her attachment to Methodism, and would go long distances to attend meetings." [The Settlement of Upper Canada by William Canniff, p. 576]

"As many marriages as there were to McDowall's credit [in addition to Langhorn] the justices of the peace performed more. Robert Young at Carrying Place must have been a genial, warm person because people came from all over the county and beyond to be married by him--as they did to Peter Van Alstine--by oxcart through the woods. MacDonnell in Marysburg married quite a few, Stephen Conger registered 67 (one, he remarked sourly in his notebook he had slogged through the rain and mud to perform and got nothing for his trouble.) Nicholas Lazier in Sophiasburg was popular. [THE COUNTY by Richard and Janet Lunn (1967) The Picton Gazette Publishing Co., Ltd., Picton Ontario Canada, p. 124.]

"Farmers around Northport were generally prosperous--Mordens, Parliaments, Spragues, Noxons...Laziers had a mill just east of the village --but in Northport, shipbuilders and, more, ship captains were princes and Northport was a small but hay place to line in and work. [THE COUNTY by Richard and Janet Lunn (1967) The Picton Gazette Publishing Co., Ltd., Picton Ontario Canada, p. 209.]

"Set on what was initially an island stands an exceptionally beautiful stone house built by William Lazier (lot 18, Concession 1 west of Green Point, Sophiasburg). The large front door has its original lock. The pine floors are beautifully preserved, showing rich colours and grain. In front of the fireplace, with its bake oven, is a floor of yellow ochre. The interior doors have small knobs, and the windows are deeply recessed.

"William's Loyalist grandfather, Nicholas Lazier, came to Sophiasburg at the age of fifty-three, bringing with him his family and slaves. His son Nicholas, born in the United States in 1781, married Katherine Davenport, and obtained the Crown grant for lot 18 in 1802. The family had been millers in the United States and mill foundations at the back of the house indicate that they continued in this occupation in Sophiasburg. William, son of Nicholas and Katherine, built the present house in the 1830's to replace the first family home. The beauty of the building today is due in part to the cumulative effect of its detailing and in part to the careful attention of the present owners, whose insistence on authenticity included hand crafting of a pioneer tool with which to repair muntins, the slender wooden bars that separate the panes in windows. From Elaine Farley: Jacobus (Cabos or James) Lazier, b 17 Aug 1776 and baptized at Schraelenburg NJ 1 Sep 1776 d 1851; m in 1802 Merebeth Dorland b 18 May 1782 settled at old Lazier House Lot 18 Sophiasburg, and then on Lot 8 concession 2 Northwest of the Carrying Place (Picton, in this case, not Carrying Place, Ontario) Hallowell Township, which he inherited from his father, Nicholas. In 1807 Nicholas Lazier had bought this property from Christopher German for 100 pounds. James registered a Memorial of this transaction in 1824 when he had to register a mortgage on the property to John Stickney for 42 pounds, 18s, 10p. This was paid and discharged in 1832. The north-easterly 100 acres James sold to his brother Abraham Lazier in 1832 for 300 pounds. Abraham sold it in 1857 with his wife Jane A. Lazier signing the Deed to release her interest in the property. The south-westerly 100 acres, which presumably had the house on it, he sold to his son Nicholas D. Lazier in 1832.

The Dorlands played a leading role in the settlement of Adolphustown. In March 1794, 6 of the 402 inhabitants of Adolphustown were in the Thomas Dorland household and 9 in the Philip Dorland household. Thomas was one of the first magistrates appointed for the Township, had 2000 acres of land grants and brought 20 slaves with him to Canada. Both Thomas and Dr. Willet Dorland were at one time elected Members of the Provincial Legislature--Thomas served for many years. Philip would have been a Member but for his religious convictions. He won election to the first parliament but, being a Quaker, he refused to take the oath. A resolution was passed unanimously to the effect that he was incompetent to sit and vote in Parliament unless he would be sworn in. A new election was held and another person was elected. Merebeth was the seventh child of John Dorland's twelve.

John's great-great grandfather was Jan Gerretse Dorlandt b 1625 in Holland and d 1711 at New York City. He had settled on Long Island in 1652. Samuel Munro's Drygoods Store
Demorestville, Sophiasburg Township

The names Richard Tripp, Israel Tripp and Isaac DeMille appear on account books for debits and credits at Samuel Munro's country store. Isaac DeMille is the son of Isaac DeMille U.E.L.

Samuel Munro's store offered drygoods, house furnishings, hardware and general merchandise. The store was opened in the village of Demorestville in the year 1822, and by the year 1830 was probably catering to the needs of 2000 people.

He carried all kinds of kitchenware, bone china, earthenware, cutlery, pots and pans, bedroom sets, and varied other articles. In hardware he stocked bolts, screws, nuts, nails, door-fittings, window glass, paint pigments, raw and boiled linseed oil, paint brushes, axes, saws, shoemaker's tools and tools of all kinds for all purposes. In food lines he had staples: flour, sugar, butter, eggs, pork, hog's fat, seasonings of all kinds, salt, pepper, and allspice. He sold clay pipes, tobacco, whiskey and chewing tobacco. In addition he took orders for anything any customer required.

The store was a bookkeeping/barter business. There was little cash money for trade. The store bought anything the clients had to sell. Butter, eggs, grains, vegetables, meat, lard, tallow, hides, cheese, fruit, all had standard prices. Items that couldn't be sold locally were shipped out for sale to Montreal and New York.

Samuel Munro started an ashery and bought all the ashes his clients had for sale. He made both potash and pearl-ash which went to Montreal in England.

He took on many partners and started many small ventures, he appears to have bowed out as soon as they could run without his help. He started a cooperage as barrels were needed for storage of goods and shipment. This plant also made barrels, kegs, vats, troughs, pails, and buckets for sale at the store.

He started a tannery, since he bought hides. He also had a small plant where he made rolls and batts from wool. He sponsored or backed two shoemakers and a harness maker in order that the leather from the tannery might be used and he sold their products in his store. He sponsored tailors by giving credits.

He had two transportation partnerships, one with Henry Dunning, a water transportation by flat bottomed scows from Demorestville to Smith's Mill, owned half by Henry Smith and Samuel Munro. The other partnership with Robert Vaughn, running to sail boats from Kingston to Northport.

One in ten entries in the account books dealt with financial transactions, anyone could borrow money, or charge an account, so to pay fees to a third party for services rendered. There was no charge for these transactions, it was part of good will to foster business. This was a very early version of the Credit and Loan Company with no charge.

Samuel Munro also had a tavern and brewed and distilled for it and for his brother's tavern at Croften. [Munro, J. E. R., "Munro's Demorestville" 1971, Prince Edward Historical Society, Picton, Ontario, 1989.]

The following information has been gleaned from the actual account book for Samuel Munro's Drygoods Store. There are two account books each measuring 15 inches x 7 inches x 1 3/4 inches. The books are in remarkably good condition and are available at the Prince Edward County Archives in Picton, Ontario.

Much of the writing in the book is very hard to interpret. Each entry for Richard Tripp, Israel Tripp and Isaac DeMille has been recorded in the following text, with some of my own comments beside. Writing that is illegible is indicated between brackets [ ], with probable interpretations inside brackets. Typed as how the writer spelled the words and names.
